The Armory presents: "Do you want the cosmetic version or the real deal? Los Angeles Poverty Department, 1985 – 2016" 30-year survey exhibition features photos, texts etc drawn from LAPD's archives. Galleries open Tues-Sun, 12n-5p. Free. Armory Center for the Arts, Caldwell Gallery, 145 North Raymond Avenue, Pasadena, CA 91103. Founded in 1985 on Los Angeles's Skid Row by performance artist, director and activist John Malpede, and assisted by assoc. director and producer Henriëtte Brouwers since 2000, LAPD is made up principally of homeless or formerly homeless people and has been an uncompromising force in performance and urban advocacy for almost 30 years.

"Sabado Mornings," Fri-Sat 8p, Sun 5:30p. Tix: $15/$25, call 213-908-5032, <http://tinyurl.com/sabado-mornings>, Studio/Stage Theater, 520 N. Western Av., LA 90004. "Sabado Mornings," about ex-LAPD detective and widower Eddie, and Rosa, a Latina Mexican restaurant waitress, explores the budding mutual attraction and unveils the evolution of a "reluctant love story."

May 18-July 31

Walk the Talk Gallery Exhibition: Portraits of 45 previous Walk the Talk honorees on display at LAPD's Skid Row History Museum and Archive, 440 S. Broadway, LA 90013. (Fri-Sun, 2-5p). Walk the Talk celebrates long process of community engagement via performances, exhibitions, public conversations, interviews – with the aim of enlisting community brain power to identify initiatives and people whose actions have helped weave the social fabric of Skid Row. Transcripts and video interviews of the 45 honorees, along with the scenes derived from their interviews, thanks to coding wizard Rob Ochshorn.

Book Launch and Reading: THE SPITBOY RULE: Tales from a Xicana in a Female Punk Band, with author Michelle Cruz Gonzalez, 7:30p. Espacio 1839, 1839 E 1st St, E.L.A 90033.
The Spitboy Rule: book launch

Michelle Cruz Gonzales played drums and wrote lyrics in the influential 90s female hardcore band Spitboy. Now she's written a book—a punk rock herstory. Though not a riot grrl band, Spitboy blazed trails for women musicians in the SF Bay Area and beyond. Misogyny, sexism, abusive fans, class and color blindness, and all-out racism were foes, especially for Gonzales, a Xicana and the only person of color in the band. KPFK Needs Donors & Volunteers

KPFK is listener-sponsored free speech community oriented radio with a mission of peace, justice and education. It relies almost exclusively on listeners to keep operating -- not corporate underwriting or government money with strings attached. The station must raise the money from listeners, mostly through on-air fund-drives -- please donate generously during May's fund drive by calling 818-985-5735; you can also take pledge calls by coming in to the station at 3729 Cahuenga Blvd. West in Studio City,

The KPFK Volunteer Program provides an important opportunity to participate and contribute to one of the most important and significant news and information organizations in the US. The program is designed to provide opportunities to community members of Southern California and the college campuses within our listening area.

You can also apply to be a part of KPFK's new People's School of Broadcasting, a 16 week training program to teach you everything you need to know to run KPFK. Admissions reopen June 1. For more information and to schedule a brief interview, email kpfkfuture@gmail.com. Please try to include a little about yourself and a resume. If you are interested in working with any of our Public Affairs programs such as Sojourner Truth, Uprising or Background Briefing, our Safe Harbor programming, or our amazing and diverse music shows, please also include a writing sample.

Douglas Rushkoff: The Peril and Promise of the Digital Economy, 7:30p. Hammer Museum/UCLA, 10899 Wilshire Bl. at Westwood. Digital tech was supposed to usher in prosperity. Instead, it's put industrial capitalism on steroids—workers lose to automation, investors lose to algorithms, and tech developers lose to the demands of the start-up economy. Rushkoff, author of Throwing Rocks at the Google Bus: How Growth Became the Enemy of Prosperity, explains what went wrong and how we can reboot our obsolete economic operating system using the distributive power of the internet. A book signing follows the lecture. hammer.ucla.edu/programs-events

Central Library, Mark Taper Auditorium, 5th & Flower, DTLA. www.lfla.org/aloud or call 213-292-6254. Maxine Hong Kingston has been writing about war and peace since her landmark 1976 book The Woman Warrior. Her efforts on this theme often touched on the Vietnam War. These works influenced novelist and critic Viet Thanh Nguyen as he dealt with the war in fiction (The Sympathizer) and scholarship (Nothing Ever Dies: Vietnam and the Memory of War). Both will share the ALOUD stage to discuss their histories with the war, and the responsibility of literature in depicting war machines and peace movements.
